Q1. Directions: Read the following passage to answer the given questions based on it. Some words/phrases are printed in bold to help you locate them while answering some of the questions. (The passage has been extracted from 'The Hindu' dated June 11, 2014.) Ever since the morning after 26/11, India's strategic community has discussed what the country ought to do when the next 26/11 happens. Prime Minister Narendra Modi may have to answer that question sooner than most people expect. The Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT) staged its first operation against an Indian target since 26/11 just hours before Mr. Modi took office, attacking India's mission in Herat. Lashkar chief Hafiz Muhammad Saeed blamed Mr. Modi for this week's attacks on Karachi — and demanded vengeance. From past evidence, we know these thr... [Continues in context]

(A) Due to India's enhanced security after 26/11

(B) Due to India's serious dialogue with Pakistan

(C) Due to the pressure Pakistan got from the United States of America

(D) Because the outfit lost its Chief in an accident

Correct Answer: Option (C) : Due to the pressure Pakistan got from the United States of America

Logic / Derivation: Passage Analysis: Reviewing the contextual evidence in the passage confirms that the author's argument directly supports Option (C) (Due to the pressure Pakistan got from the United States of America). Other choices introduce unwarranted extrapolations or contradict the central theme.

Q11. Read the passage and answer the questions. Management is a set of processes that can keep a complicated system of people and technology to run smoothly. The most important aspects of management include planning, budgeting, organizing, staffing, controlling and problem-solving. Leadership is a set of processes that creates organizations in the first place or adapts them to significantly changing circumstances. Leadership defines what the future should look like, aligns people with that vision and inspires them to make it happen despite the obstacles. This distinction is absolutely crucial for our purposes here: Successful transformation is 70 to 90 per cent leadership and only 10 to 30 percent management. Yet for historical reasons, many organizations today don't have much leadership. And a... [Continues in context]

Q31. Refer to the passage in Question 1. According to the passage, new joiners learn more slowly when they work remotely because they

(A) are given fewer software tools than office staff
(B) spend too much time commuting
(C) cannot observe experienced colleagues
(D) refuse to follow hybrid schedules

Correct Answer: Option (C) : cannot observe experienced colleagues
Logic / Derivation: The passage states directly that new joiners learn less quickly when they cannot observe experienced colleagues.

Q32. Refer to the passage in Question 1. The author suggests that hybrid models succeed mainly because of

(A) expensive video-conferencing software
(B) a complete ban on work-from-home days
(C) clear norms for meeting, documenting and including remote colleagues
(D) longer commuting hours

Correct Answer: Option (C) : clear norms for meeting, documenting and including remote colleagues
Logic / Derivation: The last sentence says success depends less on software tools than on clear norms for meetings, documentation and inclusion.

[OnlineStudy4U Live Mock: Infosys Full Length Mock Test- 10]
Topic: Verbal Ability

Q33. Passage Remote work, once treated as an emergency arrangement, has become a lasting feature of the information-technology industry. Firms discovered that many roles can be performed without a shared office, and employees valued the time saved on commuting. Productivity studies, however, present a mixed picture. Individual task completion often improves when people work from home, but collaboration on complex problems tends to slow down. New joiners, in particular, learn less quickly when they cannot observe experienced colleagues. Companies have therefore shifted toward hybrid models: a few fixed office days for teamwork, with the remaining days left flexible. The success of such models depends less on software tools than on clear norms—when to meet, how to document decisions... [Continues in context]

(A) Remote work has failed and companies should return to the office full-time.
(B) Hybrid work is emerging because remote work has both benefits and limits.
(C) Software tools are the main reason hybrid models succeed.
(D) New joiners prefer working only from home.

Correct Answer: Option (B) : Hybrid work is emerging because remote work has both benefits and limits.
Logic / Derivation: The passage notes gains from remote work, then its drawbacks for collaboration and new joiners, and ends with hybrid models plus the need for norms. That balanced shift is the main idea.

Q34. Refer to the passage in Question 1. Which of the following is true according to the passage?

(A) Every IT role still requires a shared office.
(B) Employees did not value the time saved on commuting.
(C) Individual home-based task work often becomes faster.
(D) Hybrid models have no office days at all.

Correct Answer: Option (C) : Individual home-based task work often becomes faster.

Logic / Derivation: The passage says individual task completion often improves when people work from home. The other options contradict the text.

Q39. Passage Many software companies now treat code reviews as a daily habit rather than a last-minute check. A second pair of eyes often finds defects that automated tests miss, especially unclear names, missing edge cases and weak error messages. Reviews also spread knowledge: a junior engineer who reads a senior colleague's change learns the team's style faster than by studying a handbook. The practice has a cost. Long review queues delay releases, and harsh comments discourage people from sharing early drafts. Teams that keep reviews short, set a response-time target and discuss design before large patches are written usually keep both quality and speed. Tools help, but they cannot replace an agreed standard of courtesy and focus. What is the main idea of the passage?

(A) Automated tests have made human code reviews unnecessary.
(B) Code reviews improve quality and learning if teams manage time and tone.
(C) Junior engineers should never review senior engineers' work.
(D) Review tools can fully replace agreed team standards.

Correct Answer: Option (B) : Code reviews improve quality and learning if teams manage time and tone.

Logic / Derivation: The passage supports reviews for defects and learning, then names the costs, and ends with how short, timely, courteous reviews keep quality and speed. That balanced claim is the main idea.

Q40. Passage Open-source licences let companies use shared libraries without writing every component from scratch. That speed has a condition: teams must track which licence each library carries. A copyleft licence can require the company to publish its own source if the library is mixed into a shipped product. Permissive licences are lighter, but they still ask for credit. Legal reviews that happen only a week before release often find a blocked component and force a rewrite. Groups that keep a licence inventory from the first sprint avoid that scramble. A copyleft licence may require a company to

(A) pay a yearly fee only
(B) rename the library
(C) publish its own source if the library is mixed into a shipped product
(D) delete all comments

Correct Answer: Option (C) : publish its own source if the library is mixed into a shipped product
Logic / Derivation: The third sentence states that copyleft can require publishing the company's own source when the library is mixed into a shipped product.

Q41. Passage Open-source licences let companies use shared libraries without writing every component from scratch. That speed has a condition: teams must track which licence each library carries. A copyleft licence can require the company to publish its own source if the library is mixed into a shipped product. Permissive licences are lighter, but they still ask for credit. Legal reviews that happen only a week before release often find a blocked component and force a rewrite. Groups that keep a licence inventory from the first sprint avoid that scramble. What is the main idea of the passage?

(A) Open-source software should be banned in companies.
(B) Shared libraries save time only if licences are tracked early.
(C) Copyleft licences never require published source.
(D) Legal reviews should be delayed until release week.

Correct Answer: Option (B) : Shared libraries save time only if licences are tracked early.
Logic / Derivation: The passage balances the speed of shared libraries with the need to track licences from the first sprint so late rewrites are avoided.

Legal reviews that happen only a week before release often find a blocked component and force a rewrite. Groups that keep a licence inventory from the first sprint avoid that scramble. Late legal reviews are a problem because they

(A) often find a blocked component and force a rewrite
(B) always cancel the product
(C) remove the need for credit
(D) make permissive licences heavier

Correct Answer: Option (A) : often find a blocked component and force a rewrite
Logic / Derivation: The passage says reviews a week before release often find a blocked component and force a rewrite.

Teams avoid last-minute scramble by

(A) ignoring copyleft libraries
(B) hiring more testers in the last week
(C) keeping a licence inventory from the first sprint
(D) shipping without review

Correct Answer: Option (C) : keeping a licence inventory from the first sprint

Q46. Passage Battery-electric buses cut street noise and tailpipe smoke, but they do not remove every cost. A depot needs chargers, a stronger grid connection and spare batteries for peak hours. Drivers also need a new duty cycle: charging windows replace some of the old refuelling stops. Cities that pilot one route first learn the real range in rain and hill traffic before they replace a whole fleet. The cleanest plan is not the largest overnight order; it is the one that matches charger capacity to the timetable. A depot for electric buses needs

(A) chargers, a stronger grid connection and spare batteries
(B) only a diesel generator
(C) no change to the grid

Q73. Passage Remote work, once treated as an emergency arrangement, has become a lasting feature of the information-technology industry. Firms discovered that many roles can be performed without a shared office, and employees valued the time saved on commuting. Productivity studies, however, present a mixed picture. Individual task completion often improves when people work from home, but collaboration on complex problems tends to slow down. New joiners, in particular, learn less quickly when they cannot observe experienced colleagues. Companies have therefore shifted toward hybrid models: a few fixed office days for teamwork, with the remaining days left flexible. The success of such models depends less on software tools than on clear norms—when to meet, how to document decisions, and how to ... [Continues in context]

(A) Every IT role still requires a shared office.
(B) Employees did not value the time saved on commuting.
(C) Individual home-based task work often becomes faster.
(D) Hybrid models have no office days at all.

Correct Answer: Option (C) : Individual home-based task work often becomes faster.

Logic / Derivation: The passage says individual task completion often improves when people work from home. The other options contradict the text.

Some of the words are highlighted which would help you to answer some of the questions given. All political parties must be mindful of the core values that invigorate Indian democracyAs the countdown for elections to the 17th Lok Sabha begins, the world's largest democracy has a chance to re-imagine itself. Over the last 16 general elections and numerous elections at lower levels, the resolute trust that the founding fathers of the Republic put in the parliamentary democratic system has been substantially proven wise. India did make some dangerous turns and show signs of fragility, especially during the Emergency in the 1970s, but in the long term it expanded the scope of its democra... [Continues in context]
